Scene 1: The Year of the Elephant (Surah Al-Fil)

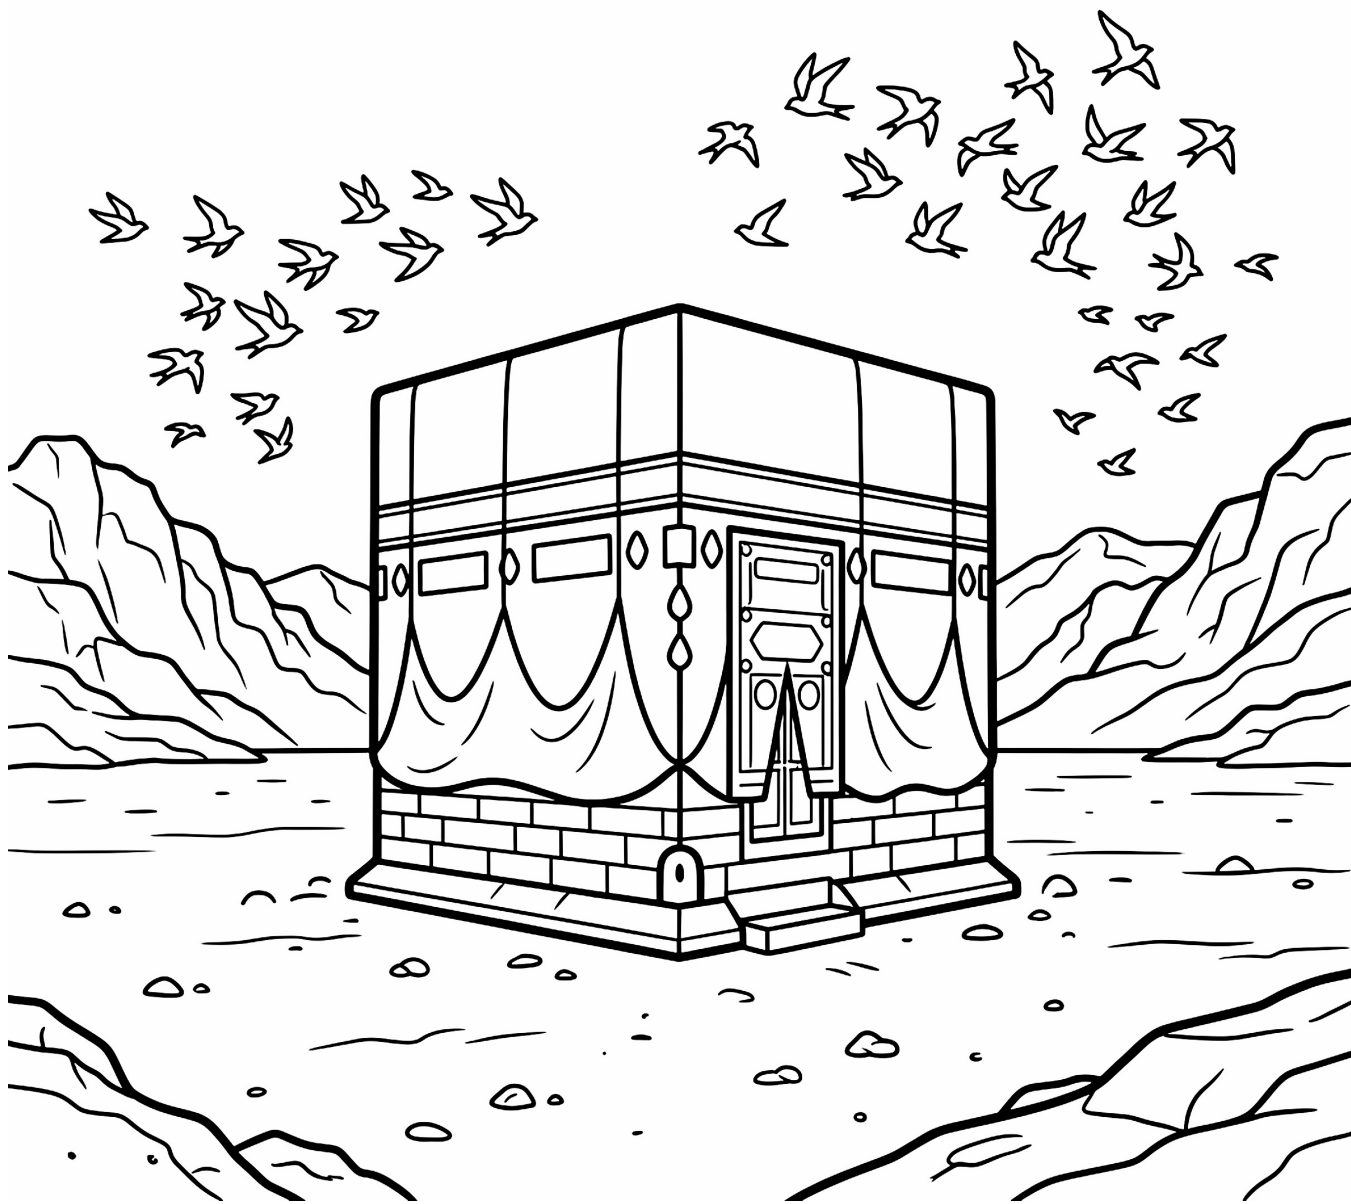

In the year the Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was born, an army with a giant elephant marched toward Mecca to harm the sacred Ka'bah. But Allah protected His holy house by sending flocks of little birds (Ababil) carrying small stones across the bright desert sky.

Did You Know?

In the time of the Prophet (pbuh), the Ka'bah was draped in beautiful striped Yemenite cloths and white Egyptian linen, long before the black and gold covering we see today!

Virtue in Action

Trust in Allah — Just like Allah protected the sacred Ka'bah, He is always watching over us with love and mercy.

Scene 6: Cave Hira & The First Words ("Iqra")

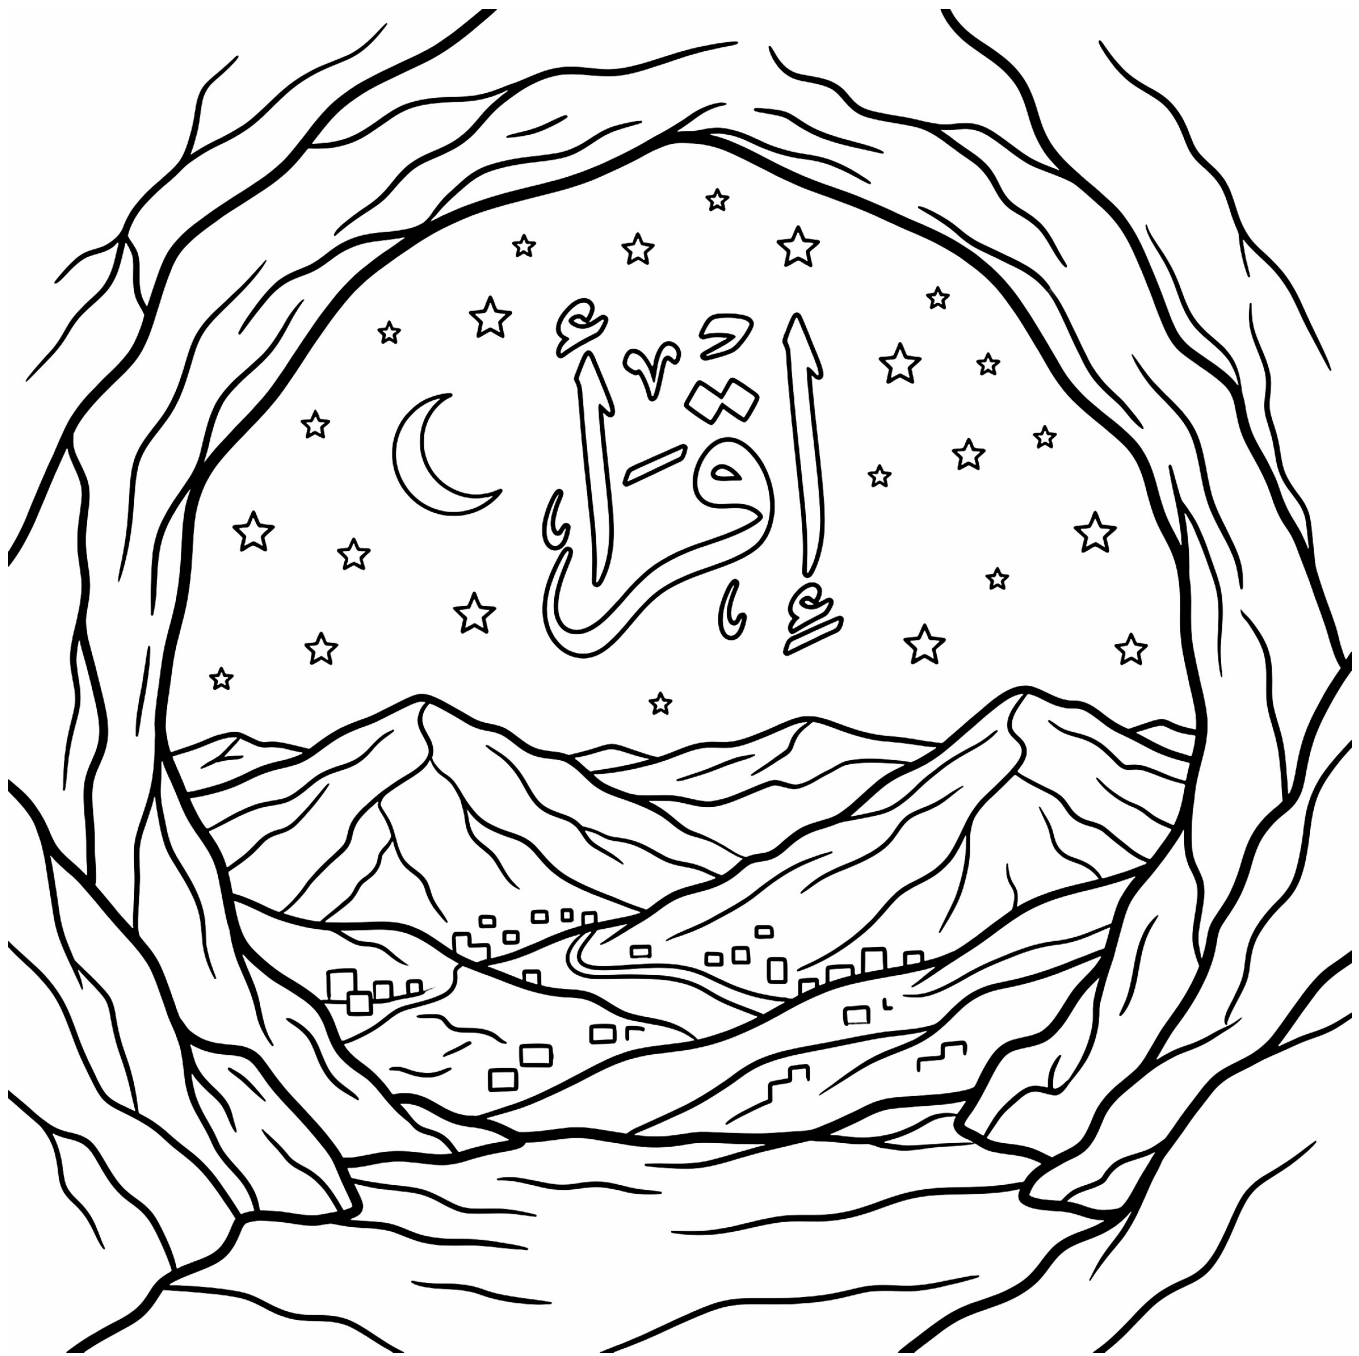

Inside the rocky shelter of Cave Hira, the Angel Jibreel (Gabriel) appeared with the very first revelation of the Holy Quran. The first word spoken was "Iqra!" — which means Read!

Did You Know?

The Quran took 23 years to be revealed completely, but it all began in this quiet cave on a blessed night in the month of Ramadan!

Virtue in Action

Love for Learning — Islam teaches us that reading, seeking knowledge, and asking good questions are noble acts of worship.

Scene 17: Al-Qaswa Finds Her Home

Every family in Madinah begged the Prophet (pbuh) to stay in their home, offering him their best hospitality. The Prophet (pbuh) told them: "Let my camel go, for she is guided by Allah." His gentle camel, Al-Qaswa, walked peacefully through the streets until she knelt down in an open date-drying courtyard belonging to two young orphan boys.

Did You Know?

The exact spot where Al-Qaswa knelt became the foundation of Al-Masjid an-Nabawi (The Prophet's Mosque), one of the holiest places in the world!

Virtue in Action

Fairness & Humility — Leaving decisions to fair guidance avoids jealousy and brings people together in peace.
